Terms & Conditions

Appointments are given at 10 minute intervals. Due to the unpredictable needs of our patients we sometimes run late and, therefore, to be seen at the appointed time is not guaranteed. If you are averse to being kept waiting, you are advised to seek the first appointment of the morning or evening clinics; these slots are guaranteed against delays.

We are sympathetic to our patients who arrive late and do our best to accommodate them. This requires some juggling, as we have to give priority to patients who keep to the appointed time.

Early arrival does not qualify for consultation before the appointed time. Patients are seen in the sequence determined by the appointment list and not by their time of arrival or reporting at the front desk.

All appointments are subject to availability of the consultant and availability of time-slots. Appointments can be re-scheduled up to 24 Hours before only. There will not be any refund if booking is changed within 24 Hours of Appointments.

Personal emergencies, such as medical illnesses and accidents, sometimes compel consultants to cancel booked appointments. When this is necessary and unavoidable, the appointment staff will call and every effort is made to prevent inconvenience or hardship. Alternate appointments, when practical, are offered.
